

Learn how to find the job you want.

Landing a Great Job

Essential resources are right at your fingertips for:

- Networking
- Job search
- Resume and interview preparation

Beginning the Legal Job Search

The most successful job seekers ask, "Where do I want to work?" If you have not chosen an area of law, a geographic region, or the size or type of company or firm you'd like to target, your job search begins with the question, "Where will I be most comfortable and be able to achieve my greatest personal success?" Answer this question through the exploration of legal career options, which is best accomplished in conversations with those already practicing law.

Connect with Legal Professionals

Attorneys and law firms use martindale.com® to promote their practices. You can use this vast legal practice database to connect with legal professionals—identifying alumni and lawyers whose backgrounds, areas of law or location are of interest to you.

As the only global networking site exclusively for legal professionals, martindale.com® Connected offers you the opportunity to find and be found by professionals in the legal arena by creating your own online presence. Join martindale.com Connected at www.martindale.com by selecting "Join Now." Create your legal profile, including your resume, so that those you connect with can quickly learn more about you.

Start Networking Now

Don't wait until you are applying for a job to network. Trust is essential in building a strong network. Use networking tools like martindale.com to connect and build relationships, not to ask for a job. An established network will be there to support you as you seek work and advance your career in the future. Quickly identify companies, firms and attorneys by name, practice area, or location on martindale.com using Find Lawyers & Firms. Find judges, attorneys, and other legal professionals by practice area or location. Search by school name and identify alumni to network with—you already have an important connection. Detailed firm and attorney profiles contain plenty of information to help you with what to discuss when you reach out to them.

Build a Profile on a Judge, Attorney or Firm

Learn about a firm's litigation history with CourtLink® Strategic Profiles. Strategic Profiles show a firm's experience in types of suits or in front of certain judges, depicted in easy-to-read graphs and data charts.

To build a profile of a law firm start at lexis.com®:

- Click Legal under the Search tab
- Click Court Records, Briefs and Filings then Court Records
- Click Litigant, Attorney & Judge Strategic Profiles to access CourtLink
- Click the Attorney/Law Firm tab to begin your search
- Enter the attorney name or law firm under Name of Attorney
- Click the red Create Profile button
- Check the boxes for the specific attorneys to customize your report and click the red Create Profile button

Note: The standard retail charge will appear during this process, but you will not be charged.

To review decisions involving an attorney or firm on Lexis Advance:

- Enter the attorney or firm's name in the red search box and click Search
- Under the Cases tab, use the Attorney filter to narrow the results to cases where the attorney is counsel of record

Note: You can enter additional terms to the search for context.
